1. I spent an hour briefing [REDACTED] the new Chief of the [REDACTED] DD/P. He appeared quite receptive, and I expect to see a lot more of him in the future.

2. Jim Garrison telephoned to say that he understood there was some question as to whether the Map Library was actually going to take the space [REDACTED] which we have designated for that. I asked him to hold off doing anything for another day inasmuch as Gates Lloyd was going to look into this situation more completely. However, I had no doubt that the Map Library was going to have to go into that space; and, in fact, there are going to be a lot more CIA people in that or similar space.

3. Stan Grogan telephoned to say that radio station WTOP had called him to say that they were in possession of information to the effect that CIA was giving the McLean Fire Department a cold shoulder insofar as any support was concerned, despite the fact that they are repeatedly called out to service the CIA building. I asked Stan to tell WTOP that we were most appreciative for the McLean Fire Department's services and that we were trying to find some way in which we could contribute to them financially. There are some legal problems, however, involved in providing appropriated funds to a voluntary fire department. These problems, I told Stan, were under active consideration and I hoped we could work out something. (I must remember to pursue this; it is important.)

4. I conferred with Emmett Echols and [REDACTED] about the program next week for the university consultants. (I think we have a satisfactory program worked out.) I asked Mr. Kirkpatrick and General Carter to address the group. Kirk has agreed, and [REDACTED] has committed General Carter.

5. John Tietjen and [REDACTED] both telephoned to say that the Director's office had requested that Messrs. [REDACTED] be promoted today. I told them this was okay with me.

6. Last night [REDACTED] brought back the papers which we had sent up to General Carter recommending that [REDACTED] be permitted to resign effective 1 February 1963 in lieu of 26 October 1962. General Carter would have no part of this action. He felt that he had already interceded personally in [REDACTED] case to a greater extent than was desirable, and he is not going to do anything more in this case. I telephoned Harry [REDACTED] and told him the recommendation had been returned without action and that it would not be acted upon. I told him further that [REDACTED] resignation should be processed normally, effective today, but that there was no objection to picking him up on contract for ninety days. I have cleared this with [REDACTED], who will put him to work; and his contract will be effective immediately to terminate automatically on 1 February 1963.

7. Shef Edwards telephoned me about a man named [REDACTED] in his office who has cancer and probably will not live too long. He would like to transfer him to [REDACTED] where he can be profitably used, although he was hesitant to do so without my permission inasmuch as Mr. [REDACTED] may well be a terminal case. He is an ordnance expert and could be used in [REDACTED] at this time. I told Shef to go ahead and send him if he could work out the necessary arrangements with the Office of Logistics.
